When you hear of any more duels, put them down as advertising dodges, and let them alone.

Harmony is still a stranger to the democratic party in Ohio. The democrats are always lacking something that is worth having.

General Sherman has finally reached the correct opinion of Washington, as a place of residence. "It is full of hollowness, hypocracy, and snubbery."

Henry D. Lloyd will describe in the next number of the North American Review the methods employed by speculators in grain, and will show how they operate to make bread dear.

Good news still continues to come from Washington. It has been decided by the internal revenue bureau, that patent medicine men must pay taxes the same as other dealers in liquor. This is a wise decision.

Postmaster General Gresham is a greater man than the country thought, when he was called to his present position. He has integrity and courage, and his blow at the lottery scheme is a fresh illustration of this fact.

Anna Dickinson will begin to star again in Hamlet next fall, and will also add Lady Macbeth to her limited repetore. Miss Dickinson can tear down in a very short time what it took her years to build. When she quit the platform she should never have gone on the stage.

July started out with a deadly record and continues to keep that record up London, Ontario, was visited by a terrible tornado on Wednesday, followed by a devastating freshet, ann forty persons were drowned and hundreds were rendered homeless. Kansas again has been the scene of a deadly tornado with loss of life and great destruction to property.

It is reported that the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul in order to compete with the Northwestern, has placed dining cars on its La Crosse division, and will run them between Chicago and St. Paul. The introduction of these cars upon the St. Paul company's leading line between the two principal cities of the northwest will tend to popularize it to a remarkable extent. These roads leave nothing undone to make these routes popular, and to cater to the demands of the public.

There were several incongruous elements in the Pennsylvania republican convention which met at Harrisburg on Wednesday, but a more harmonious political gathering was never seen in the state. The stalwarts and independents came together as one body, without any bitter feeling toward each other, and united on one ticket. This result means that the republicans will carry the state next fall. The state ticket will be found in another part of this issue of the Gazette.

The university of Milwaukee, of which mention has already been made in the Gazette, will be under the control of the Baptists, but will not be sectarian as to its teachings. All denominations will be represented on its board, but three-fourths of the members thereon must be of the Baptist denomination. It is the intention of the incorporators to make the university as good as Yale or Dartmouth. The election of officers will be held on the 17th of this month.

Mr. Charles Francis Adams, Jr., has created quite a stir among the colleges, and has brought out much discussion in the newspapers by his late address before the Phi Belta Kappa society at Harvard college, in which he made an attack on the study of the Latin and Greek classics. Mr. Adams is himself a graduate of Harvard, and has a pretty thorough knowledge of the Greek and Latin, and it is no doubt his experience, as it is the experience of thousands of others, that the years spent on the dead languages are years virtually thrown away. Mr. Adams was very bold in taking the course he did before such a society at Harvard. Others have attacked the classics, but very few of them ever dared to make their attacks within the walls of the universities. But Mr. Adams went there with his weapons and boldly assailed the dead languages, and did it in a manner that will suit the minds of very many persons. In part Mr. Adams was right in his position, and in part he was wrong. To the minister, Greek and Latin are of permanent value, while to the lawyer and the doctor, or to any one else who denies to prepare himself for the practical business of life, these languages are of no sort of value. There is not one young man in a thousand who graduates from college who holds fast to the dead languages. They are studied while at school, but when the young men go out from college and must battle with the business affairs of life, they lose sight of their Latin and Greek, and then they feel very much as Thomas Carlyle did when he said:

That parish minister was the first person that ever taught me Latin, and I am not sure but that he laid a very great curse upon me in so doing. I think it likely I should have been a wiser man, and certainly a godlier one, if I had followed in my father's steps, and left Greek and Latin to the fools that wanted them.

If a young man has time and money and does not have to give any thought of the morrow, and wants to understand something of the curiosities of the Greek and of the beauties of the Latin, let him study them; but if a young man has to work hard for a living and meet the ups and downs of life, single-handed and alone, he will need a more substantial friend than Latin and Greek. Mr. Adams suggests the substitution of French and German for the dead languages, and in a large majority of cases they will serve a much better purpose than Greek and Latin.

AGAIN THE DELUGE.

A Canada River on a Mission of Devastation.

London, Ontario, in the Path of the Destroying Flood.

Forty Lives Believed to Have Been Lost in the Raging Waters—Fearful Wreck of Buildings.

LONDON, Ont., July 12.—About 3 o'clock in the morning the Thames began rising at this city and inside of three hours it had reached the highest point ever known. Spots that had never been touched before by the freshets were covered to the depth of five feet. A large number of lives have been lost, and all sorts of estimates are afloat. Save in a few instances, it is absolutely impossible to say how many have perished. It is a low estimate to place the number of drowned at forty, and when the returns of the missing come in this may be increased. The destruction of property is simply incalculable. It will reach millions in this section, not taking into account the damage done to the standing crops. Three bridges, one of them a substantial structure, costing $16,000, erected last summer, have been swept away, and the railroad bridges were terribly strained, but withstood the pressure. At the bridge in the city the drifting houses, etc., accumulated and created a blockade that threatened to sweep everything before it if it should break. Heavily-laden cars were run upon the bridge, while a large mass of men were placed at work to dislodge the mass of rubbish. One of the workmen, named Nicholson, fell into the rushing waters, and was carried fully four hundred yards before he could be rescued.

The amount of damage occasioned on the main line and all the branches of the Grand Trunk railway will be enormous. Culverts, bridges and low-lying portions of the track have been washed away in all directions, and every train east and west was canceled. An extensive washout is reported near Watford, on the Sarnia branch, and the St. Mary's branch is in a dilapidated condition. The damage done on the main line east of the city amounts to thousands of dollars. An extensive washout occurred at Patton's siding, which is about sixteen miles from this city, and two spans of the lofty Waubauno bridge disappeared with a tremendous crash. Traffic is also stopped on the London, Huron & Bruce railway. The washout near Patton's siding caused an accident, but no fatal results are reported. No. 18, the New York express which leaves here for the east at 11:20 p. m., is now lying ditched at the spot mentioned above. The engine, tender and one or two cars were plunged into the washout. The railway authorities report that the passengers and train men all escaped without injury.

THE LOST.

Up to the present the following are known to be lost by the flood: Mrs. Hopkins, of Kensington; four children of R. F. Lacey, London West; a woman, name unknown; the 7-year-old daughter of Mr. Orr, of Ann street; three children of George Stratford, of Napier street; three children of D. T. McLean, Blackfriars street; one child of Wm. Maylan, Ann street; James Sparksman, wife, and 3-year-old son; total, seventeen. It is expected that the above list will be considerably increased.

THE CITY AT NIGHT.

LONDON, Ont., July 12.—The city is without gas, and it is feared the water supply will run short, as the pumping machinery can not be worked, owing to the height of the water. The pumping-house has been carried away, but the machinery is so far intact. Great distress is felt in all places at the lack of ice. The largest ice-houses have been swept away, and the remainder are unapproachable.

Six bodies were taken out of the water, being those of Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Constance, Mrs. Hutchinson and three of the Lacey family. One of the Laceys, aged 22, was escaping with two of the younger ones on his back, when a floating tree struck him and he was carried beneath the water. The bodies were found huddled together under a pile of rubbish in the yard of a neighbor.

An informal meeting has been held to devise means of relief for the distressed. A great deal can be done in the way of private charity, as the distress is widespread. Whole families are absolutely destitute, though their temporary wants are being supplied by neighbors. At the meeting over $7,000 were subscribed, and a committee was appointed to interview the council.

At 9:30 o'clock the rain had recommenced, but the river has fallen ten feet, and it is doubtful if it will again rise to a disastrous height.

The scene of desolation in London west is terrible. Streets are blocked with overturned houses, and travel is almost impassable save on foot, and then is very laborious. Hundreds who were well-to-do are now penniless and dependent on charity.

INCIDENTS.

Mrs. Ann Reeves performed a deed that any stout man might have been proud of. When the water rose in her little home she placed one child, a girl, under one arm and another girl under the other arm; a third, a boy, she instructed to sit astraddle on her neck, and the fourth, another boy, she got to hang on to her dress behind. In this state she started for the shore, the water being, as she assured the reporter, up to her shoulders.

"How did you ever manage to get ashore with such a load?" was asked.

"The Lord gave me strength," was the reply. "I was sure of the three youngest, but I was afraid of little Jackie, lest he should let go his hold behind, but he hung on bravely, although his head was half the time under water."

"Whose bible is this?" asked the reporter, pointing to a large family volume lying on a box close by.

"That's my bible," replied the faithful woman. "After I saw the children safe I waded back for it. I could not think of leaving it."

"Where's your husband?"

"He's away in Napier, sir."

While Mrs. Reeves was making her heroic passage to land, she aroused a neighbor, Mr. James Sparksman, and warned him of his danger. The latter, thinking that the water would not rise any higer, remained in his house. No sooner had the Collins and Reeves family gained the shore than the river took a fresh sweep. Sparksman's house swayed from side to side, broke loose from its fastenings, and disappeared in the twilight. Sparksman made a dash for the window, but too late. He was far beyond the reach of human assistance. One wild shriek went forth on the morning air and the household was hurried to their doom. The family consisted of Mr. and Mrs. James Sparksman and a boy of some 3 years of age.

Shortly before 5 o'clock a cottage was observed approaching by a few persons standing on an eminence in front of Murray's woolen factory. When the structure reached Blackfriars street it collasped, and mixed up with a quantity of household effects that came floating by was the body of a girl about 6 or 7 years of age, clad in a night-dress. Willing hands were quickly extended, and the lifeless body of the little one was placed in the hands of friends. The child was a daughter of Mr. Holman, of London west.

An infant and an aged widow woman named Garrett, now in her 70th year, lived alone in a small frame shanty on Thames street. The neighbors from adjoining houses had all fled in alarm to high ground. She had been warned, but, owing either to infirmity or the surrounding confusion, she became paralyzed with fear. Rescuers tried in vain to rouse the old lady by pounding on the door, but to no purpose. At length they burst in a window and ran in a couple of planks. They found Mrs. Garrett kneeling on the bed, holding on to one of the posts, with the water up to her neck.

One of the saddest incidents connected with the disaster occurred on Paul street. A woman was confined during the night, and early in the morning the infant died, and the poor mother had to be borne to the school-house, which, owing to its high elevation, offered available retreat. Here kind friends did all that was possible under the circumstances for the afflicted woman.

From twenty to thirty houses have been destroyed, while a large number have been shifted, and at this writing, Centre street, London west, is blocked by houses piled up in inextricable confusion. In one case, that of S. Burt, of Bridge street, the victim not only lost his house but his all as well. He escaped with his family but saved nothing beyond what they slept in.

Perhaps the greatest sufferers by the flood is the family of Mr. J. F. Lacey, a trustee of the London west school. Four of them were drowned and four escaped. Mr. John Lacey said: "It was about 3 o'clock when we first noticed the water beginning to rise, but did not think it alarming until half an hour later. Then a house near by pitched heavily over on ours, and we thought ours would go to. We then decided to make for high land. The water in the street was about four feet deep, with a very swift current. I went first with my daughter Mary. Then I took Annie, and next came Flora, aged 11, Frances 7, Harry 10, and Fred 22. The last four were all carried away. The first to go was one of the girls. She fell heavily upon the others. They stood the shock for a moment, and then went, one after another. Fred was the last. Mrs. Lacey and I got to safe ground with Mary and Annie with great difficulty, hanging on to posts and fences as best we could. I tell you it was something terrible."

OUT DOOR SPORTS.

The Turf and Its Flyers—Archery at Cincinnati—Base Ball.

Three heats were trotted in the 2:25 race, unfinished, and postponed. Stranger was ahead; best time 2:25¾. Myrtie Peek and Mme. Maranlette rode a mile hurdle race, Peek winning in 1:53.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 11.—Aquidneck park races—2:38 class: John Love won; best time, 2:32¼. Class 2:32—Green Boy first money; best time, 2:33¼.

THE ARCHERY TOURNAMENT.

CINCINNATI, O., July 12.—At the national archery tournament the double national round gold medal prize was won by Mrs. M. C. Howell, of the Tuscalem club; score, 690. The double York round prize was won by Col. R. Williams, jr., of Eaton; score, 907. The ladies' team round Highland trophy was won by the Highland archers, of Wyoming, Ohio; score, 1,076; next came Robin Hood, of Dayton, with 1,044.

The gentleman's team round trophy was won by the Highlands, of Wyoming, Ohio; score, 1,332. Score of Highland Park, of Chicago, 1,323.

FOUR PERSONS KILLED

And Sixteen Buildings Blown Away by a Cyclone in Soldier City, Ks.—Storms at Other Points.

HOLTON, KAN., July 12.—A tornado struck Soldier City, a town of two hundred inhabitants, eighteen miles west of this city, on the Kansas Central railroad, completely demolishing sixteen buildings and injuring numbers of others. Among the buildings blown down were two general stores, one drug store, one livery stable, and several residences. Three women and one child were killed outright and some fifteen injured, several seriously. The storm passed from north directly south. Mr. Stevenson, ex-sheriff of this county, living one mile south of Soldier City, lost his barn and hot-house, blown from the foundation. Growing crops were damaged some.

CHICAGO, July 42.—Specials from Atchison, Leavenworth and Topeka, Kan., Lucan, Ontario, and Fort Howard, Wis., report disaster by storm and flood. A tornado swept over Kinsley, Kan., doing great damage; a terrific hail and rain storm visited Fort Howard, damaging growing crops, and the severest storm of rain known for years swept fences and bridges away at Lucan, Ontario.

A Villainous Assault.

BOSTON, July 12.—David Flannery, night engineer in The Herald office, made a villainous assault on William J. Johnson, night foreman of the stereotyping department, and his victim is supposed to be dying. Johnson is unpopular among the men in the press-room, and Flannery seems to have taken upon himself the task of avenging their wrongs. He armed himself with an iron bar and lay in wait for his victim on the stairs leading down to the engine-room. The first blow struck Johnson across the nose and felled him to the floor, and then, after he was down, the infuriated man dealt him two more blows, fracturing the skull each time. The atrocious affair was seen by three news-boys, and Flannery was at once arrested and locked up. Johnson is at the hospital, where his chances of recovery are very slim, the iron bar with which the crime was committed can not be found, and Flanuery's fellow-employes do not hesitate to express their sympathy with him.

The agreement between De Lesseps and the British government for a new Suez canal provides that the latter party will lend the canal company £8,000,000 for fifty years at 3¼ per cent., and that the work will be completed in five years. England will endeavor to secure a fresh concession of land from Egypt.

Strength for Mind and Body.

There is more strength restoring power in a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic than in a bushel of malt or a gallon of milk. This explains why invalids find it such a wonderful invigorant for mind and body.

CONDENSED NEWS.

Iroquois, the American horse which won the English Derby, has arrived at New York with Aranza and Parthenia.

The nail-keg factory of Edward Winning, at Steubenville, Ohio, which employed two hundred men, has been destroyed by fire.

A runaway horse leaped into Chicago river at Harrison street bridge, with a buggy containing two boys and two girls. One lad was drowned.

On a narrow-gauge road in Dodge county, Georgia, four cars went through a burning bridge, by which three men lost their lives and ten others were wounded.

The colored men's convention in Texas was addressed by Gov. Ireland, who urged the delegates to secure homes while lands are cheap, and to educate their race.

The steamers Furnessia and Spain placed on the dock at Queenstown a number of assisted emigrants sent back by order of the United States authorities at New York.

J. R. Loper, a soap manufacturer at Oskkosh, stumbled into a vat of boiling lye and grease, and when his remains were found scarcely a bit of flesh remained on the bones.

Moses Marston, professor of English literature in the university of Minnesota, died from blood-poisoning, caused by crushing his thumb with a weight attached to a hitching-strap.

Two hundred assisted emigrants reached Boston by the steamer Austrian. None of them are of the pauper class, most of them having money to reach points in the western states.

Bowdoin college has reluctantly accepted the resignation of President Chamberlain, and will probably call to the vacant post Rev. Dr. E. C. Smyth, of Andover theological seminary.

President Soto, of Honduras, is expected to arrive in Chicago, with several members of his cabinet. He will be invited to visit the board of trade and will be entertained by the produce exchange.

The Minneapolis lady who abducted her grown daughter at Syracuse is Mrs. A. S. Williams, and her only intention was to prevent a marriage which she opposed. The girl owns considerable real estate in La Crosse.

The Western Union Telegraph company has adopted a rule that a day's work is to be nine hours actual service, without Sunday labor, or seven hours' labor at night, Sundays included, all service in excess to be paid for as extra.

Dr. Paaren, the state veterinary surgeon of Illinois, finds numerous cases of glanders in Whiteside county, but the owners of horses question his right to have them killed, and he has gone to Springfield to consult the attorney-general.

An excursion train filled with Freemasons from Titusville, Pa., collided with a train near Jamestown, New York. Conductor Gates and Brakeman Colby, of the latter train, were killed. Gates had orders in his pocket to wait for the excursion.

Five archbishops and one hundred priests participated in the obsequies of Archbishop Purcell at Cincinnati. The face of the dead was visible to the assemblage. Bishop Gilmour delivered the eulogy. The remains were taken to St. Martin's for interment.

The provision firm of Stiles, Goldy & McMahan, of Chicago, suspended. The junior partner attached the packing-house at Sabula, Iowa, which contains 1,600,000 pounds of meat, in behalf of the First National bank of Lyons, Iowa. The firm made an assignment to William Jones, and its liabilities are believed to be about $150,000.

Two young men of Woodstock, Ga., were such desperate rivals for the hand of a lady that a duel became the only means of settling their troubles. Bowie-knives were selected as the weapons, and Mount Carmel graveyard as the place. Principals and seconds were on time, but soon became involved in a fist-fight and broke up in disorder.

Gladstone informed the members of the house of commons that the government awaited apologies from France for the banishment of the invalid British consul from Tamatave, which resulted in his speedy death; for stopping communication between the man-of-war Dryad and the shore, and for the continued imprisonment of an English missionary named Shaw.

E. N. Sackett, a leading lawyer of Erie, Pa., was on a train bound for New York, when he was ordered by two detectives to surrender or be killed. They were in search of a California bank defaulter, and he partially answered the description. He took them for wags, and struck them, when he was handcuffed and taken to a station-house, where he remained several hours before he could prove his identity.

THE MARKETS.

CHICAGO, July 11.—Rodiger & Co.'s market letter of this evening says: Wheat inclined to weakness at the opening this morning, and August sold down from 99⅝ to 99¼ on the announcement of the suspension of Stiles, Goldy & McMahon, an old and conservative house dealing principally in provisions. Liberal purchases, however, on the part of good houses such as Kershaw, Roche & Sherwin and others turned the market when the bears took fright and commenced to cover, carrying August up to $1.01⅝, from which point the market reacted to $1, closing this noon at $1.01⅛. On the call the felling was stronger and the latest sales for August after the call were at 100¾, the market thus closing ⅝c higher than last night. Corn was strong this morning, with sales of September at 57⅞c. The market declined subsequently in sympathy with wheat, when August advanced to a premium of ⅛c over September. Receipts continue to decrease, while the demand for shipment is active and steadily drawing on our stock in store. Provisions were unsettled in early dealing, owing to the failure mentioned above, but rallied sharply afterward and close steady this afternoon. Though the prevailing opinion is that provisions will still sell lower, it should be remembered that they have had an unprecedented fall.

We believe that there is a large class of patent medicines whose ingredients are skillfully and conscientiously selected and compounded, and that they have been very useful in the domestic treatment of disease. We must come to this conclusion in precisely the same way that we come to the conclusion that a man is a skillful physician—by what they accomplish, and by the testimony of those who have used them. The reputation of a patent medicine is sustained by exactly the same evidence that supports a skillful physician's reputation. * * * Many of those medicines came out of the regular practice, and were prepared and originally prescribed by the best physicians. * * * Very few of them, we believe are humbugs and frauds in the consciousness or the intent of their makers. * * * The people, who are necessarily the judges, both of doctors and of medicines, say that these medicines are not all frauds, and if human testimony is good for anything, that fact is established. —Scribner's Monthly.

LIVER

A FACT—Facts are established by testimony. The weight of the testimony is dependent upon the character of the witness. The following unimpeachable testimony pronounce Dow's Liver Cure a medicine of merit.

We, the undersigned, have used Dow's Liver Cure ourselves and in our families, for many of the diseases for which it is recommended, and we pronounce it the most reliable and efficient medicine yet introduced in this country, and unhesitatingly recommend it to all sufferers.

Pick Your Hardware

FOR

SPRING AND SUMMER USE.

We will not attempt to enumerate what we have, nor to describe our stock further than to say that it consists of the best obtainable, in every department. We keep everything that is usually found in a first-class Hardware and Stove Store, and a few things besides, and have taken especial pains this spring to have everything up to the standard. In articles of different makes, such as

Stoves, Ranges,
Household Implements and labor saving devices.
Axes, Tools,
Farm Machinery,
Etc., Etc.

We have either arranged to give the purchaser his choice of all the varieties, or we have selected after careful comparison, what we consider to be the best. Everything in our stock has been chosen with particular reference to the want of this community and the surrounding county, and we want every purchaser to feel assured that in buying of us he is getting the greatest obtainable value for his money. Speaking of money brings us to the question of prices, and right here we must be pardoned if we do a little bragging. We do not claim to be smarter than the generality of men in a horse trade or sharper in a dog dicker, but when it comes to buying a stock of Hardware stores we know just what we are about. We have been enabled by our experience and certain advantages we possess—not the least of which is buying for SPOT CASH, to lay in our new spring stock of seasonable goods at figures which would astonish our competitors if they knew them, and will allow us to offer our patrons a benefit in the way of ROCK BOTTOM PRICES for TIP TOP GOODS, that we are sure will be appreciated.

THE GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, JULY 12.

THE FALL CAMPAIGN.

Pennsylvania Republicans and Iowa Greenbackers in Convention.

The Tickets Nominated and Platforms Adopted. Report of the Proceedings.

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 12.—The special correspondent of The Chicago Inter Ocean sends the following to his paper with reference to the Republican state convention: The ticket placed in nomination by the Republican convention is Jerome B. Niles, of Tioga, for auditor general, and William Livesy, of Allegheny, for state treasurer. A more harmonious convention, considering the incongruous elements, was never held in the state. It began by making Col. Todd, of Carlisle, its temporary chairman, recognizing the Garfield element, Col. Todd having been a Garfield elector in 1880. This was followed up by the unanimous selection of John Cessna, of Bedford, as permanent chairman. The Stalwart element being embodied in Cessna. Cessna made the greatest effort of his life in returning thanks. He said: "Let all Stalwarts prove themselves Independents; let all Independents show themselves to be Stalwarts, and henceforth let us have neither Stalwarts nor Independents, but only Republicans."

The delegates who have heretofore trained in different factions cheered themselves hoarse over this.

a rather cumbrous document, was repeatedly applauded as it was read by Gen. Harry White. It approves the continuance of the protective system; declares that surplus revenue in the United States treasury should be distributed to the states on the basis of population; asks congress to father the trade dollar; protests against the "assisted emigrant" system; indorses President Arthur as a worthy successor of Garfield; approves of the congressional provision recognizing the soldier element for office under the government; commends the effort to inaugurate civil service reform; demands that competent and faithful officers shall not be removed except for cause; indorses economy in state affairs and the abolition of all taxes not actually required; pledges itself to reform abuses existing in cities; places the responsibility of failure to apportion the state on the Democrats, necessitating the calling of an extra session of the legislature at an expense of $200,000.

THE CANDIDATES.

On the sixth ballot Wm. Livesy was nominated for state treasurer, receiving 140 out of 240 votes. Mr. Livesy is the present cashier of the state treasury, and his nomination carries out civil service ideas to an eminent degree. He is not a public man in any sense, but this convention did not seek for men who had been in publit life, preferring to go along in a go-as-you please style, to show that there was no slate. Livesy will command the votes of the workingmen in the vast iron manufactures of Pittsburg, being well known to them and brought up among them. He was Chris Magee's choice, and was opposed by "Boss" Quay, but the latter acknowledged that he was knocked out.

On the fifth ballot Jerome B. Niles, of Tioga, was nominated for auditor general, receiving 152 votes out of 243, his principal opponent being Colonel T. J. Grimeson, at present in the internal revenue service. This was anybody's fight, but as Niles was one of the original Independents it was felt that some recognition should be shown to that element, and bosses and all turned in to help him. Niles is very strong in the northern tier. He comes from United States Senator Mitchell's home, and it is claimed discovered the latter in the senatorial fight of 1881.

Republicans everywhere are jubilant over the ticket, and predict its election by at least 80,000.

IOWA GREENBACKERS.

CHICAGO, July 12.—The Inter-Ocean has the following special from Des Moines, Iowa:

The Greenback state convention held here was not very largely attended, thirty-three counties not being represented at all. There was but very little of the fire and enthusiasm that has characterized the Greenback party of the past few years.

Col. Harper, of Illinois, made a short speech, which was extremely moderate and conciliatory in its tone.

Gen. Weaver, who was nominated for governor, thanked the convention in a neat speech, but failed to predict his election.

The chief interest of the convention centered in the temperance plank in the platform and the nomination for supreme judge. D. W. Church, who was nominated for this latter office, is a lawyer unknown to fame, from Adair county. There was a strong inclination to make no nomination for this office, but to accept that of Judge Reed, made by the Republicans, and it is yet believed that Church will withdraw and the name of Reed will be printed on their tickets.

THE PLATFORM.

declares that the right to issue and control the money of the country belongs to the people, and demands the abolition of all banks of issue; favors the unrestricted coinage of gold and silver; demands that the national debt be paid as rapidly as possible, and opposes refunding; calls for a graduated income tax; demands that lands granted corporations and forfeited by them be held for actual settlers; favors amendment of the patent laws to protect inventors; favors civil service reform; demands laws regulating railways; low tariff in the interest of labor; election of president by direct vote of the people; that the railways be required to litigate in state courts; equal political rights for men and women; laws placing the soldiers on the same footing as the bondholders; prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors; denounces the extension of national bank charters, the acquittal of the star-route defendants, and the frauds in the treasury department in connection with the erection of public buildings; demands the protection of labor and legislative action to settle disputes between mine owners and miners.

THE TEWKSBURY SCANDLE.

Attempt to Prove That the Tanning of Human Skins was a Real Industry.

BOSTON, July 12.—The Tewksbury Alms house tangle is complicated by special new kinks. Governor Butler sought to prove by a witness that the tanning of skins was a real industry, but the question was ruled out. Then one of the three Democrats on the investigating committee put the same question, and defended his right to make queries, whether the majority agreed with him or not, but the chairman and the majority gave the governor's man no quarter. He carried the case before the house of representatives. After much arguing pro and con the house sustained the action of the chairman and the majority of the committee, though a good many Republicans voted the other way. Then the investigation was taken up again. The governor brought as witness Andrews, a marketman, who told of a visit to the Harvard dissecting-room, and seeing several "cut-up" bodies of infants, thus contradicting the testimony of college physicians. Another man, John Byrne, was called to prove that great quantities of clothing, etc., were sent away with the knowledge of T. K. Marsh, jr., and family, although the matter was concealed from the elder Marsh. But so many were the objections that the governor made little progress, his opponents asserting that he was introducing new evidence, etc. The case must be closed on Friday for both sides.

OHIO POLITICS.

"Gath" on Pendleton, Hoadly and Thurman.

NEW YORK, July 12.—"Gath" says:—I suspect Hoadly to be one of the men who is always hunting for a hero somewhat smaller than himself, for Hoadly in all the points of personal contact with men is Tilden's superior, and in the domain of books is almost his equal. But he bows down to loftier pretensions. The mysterious sentences of Uncle Sammy twist his gizzard all up, and Hoadly crouches like Timothy at the feet of Paul, or like that young man somewhere in the New Testament, who struck an attitude and said: "Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?"

I only want to say after this vestibule of remark that the Tilden campaign of 1876 created a new personal force in Ohio Democratic politics, and that was Hoadly. Hoadly was appreciated by Tilden, and felt profoundly grateful. He went to Washington to fight Tilden's case before the cast-iron tribunal, and made the most invincible argument ever read to show that Cronin, who had not been elected at all, ought to have his vote counted. Other lawyers on the spot made their fight for Louisiana or Florida or South Carolina, but Hoadly put his back against the rock of Oregon and the nose of Cronin.

It seems to me that two more eccentric men never met on such a great occasion than Tilden and Hoadly. Now, if Hoadly had lived in New York city and Tilden in Cincinnati, I have no doubt that their conditions would have been entirely the opposite. Then Tilden would have come to New York with a gripsack in the summer time, and rung Hoadly's bell and come in meekly, as he used to haunt Mr. Van Buren to get some fundamental instruction.

These two men remind me of an anecdote that I may have told before. I asked Mr. Harvey, when he edited the short-lived Democratic paper at Washington called The Patriot, how he was doing one morning, and said, "I read your paper every day."

"Well," said Harvey, "that reminds me of two old fellows who were going past this corner last week, and they passed two such chaps as you and I, one of whom said to the other: 'Do you see that little fellow going past? That's Copernicus Smith.'

"'Aha,' said the other, 'then that is Copernicus Smith; let me see, what did he do?'

"'Why,' said the first speaker, 'he wrote that great treatise on conic sections.'

"'Oh, did he?' said the other. 'Who is the man with him?'

"'He is the man who read it.'"

I think that Hoadly's argument in favor of Cronin must have been read by Tilden, and that these two are members of a mystic society revolving by the two great ideas of the appreciator and the appreciated. Hoadly had such good private character and was so successful a lawyer, and had really the talent for affairs, that when he desired to be governor it was not hard to consummate it; but Thurman and Pendleton were in a great stew to find this new fellow who had only been a Republican a few years before about to get the nomination on the eve of the presidential year, at a time when, by the drift of events, the state was pretty sure to go Democratic. No person but a man who has nearly been a candidate for president can state what feelings are his who is to be supplanted for the presidency in his own state that he has sown and raked for years.

Since 1862 the presidency has been on Pendleton's mind, a period of twenty-one years. The same idea entered Thurman's mind about 1870, when he saw the signs of mutiny in the Republican party, and he never spoke, if I remember, a word in favor of accepting Greeley. I think Pendleton was more tractable to that idea, for Greeley would not be Thurman. Mr. Pendleton had come to that point in 1883 that the senatorship at Washington was important enough for him to protect it without going any further toward the presidency. So he thought it best not to hinder the Hoadly boom, though he had his doubts whether it was a wise and politic thing for him to encourage the new quantity in Ohio. Thurman thought that his only chance at the presidency again was in a fight, and Hoadly had overlooked him in 1880, when he had Tilden on the brain. So Thurman went to the convention for Durbin Ward. Pendleton's friends now say that he made a great mistake when he did not go for Ward, too, since Ward never would have disturbed anybody's presidential dreams. But Hoadly has the nomination and will probably be elected; but I have my doubts whether the developments about his temperament, etc., are calculated to make him the presidential candidate.

Some say that Mr. Bookwalter is also playing some part in the present conflict of Democratic personal leaders in Ohio. Outside of that state Hoadly stands at present higher than either Thurman or Pendleton, merely because he is a newer quantity. Pendleton has done himself injury with his party, and has not gained any adherents in the Republican party for having fathered the civil service bill. The class of people who undertake to direct civil service reform in the United States is a very feminine, capricious class, and a public man wants to have very little to do with them. They have picked the Republican party to pieces and are now getting ready to pick any Democratic leaders who imbibe their views to pieces too. They are like certain old maids to whom mothers commit their young boys to bring them up, and they teach the boy how to go through forms and to overdo youth altogether.

I had rather been put on a desert island with a literary woman than on a housetop with one of these professional reformers. There is not as much respect through the country for Pendleton's sincerity as for Thurman's. Thurman is a rugged man, not altogether unselfish, but not absorbingly selfish. He is gruff, blunt and open. He has never been near enough to the presidency to have his mind made a howling wilderness. He has humor and the breath of the country is in his nostrils. He is nothing of a trimmer in politics, no actor at all, and he associates by right with men of the first-class out of his party as well as in it. His enjoyments are plain and strong. He likes his glass of whisky and takes his snuff, and appreciates young people and general society. His opponents respect him. If by any means he could at his age become the Democratic candidate now he would have the sincere affection of his party, whatever might be his fate at the polls. If Hoadly is elected governor there will be something of a boom for him for the presidency, but I doubt whether any man who is willing to sit meek and complacent under Mr. Tilden's elysian mysteries is going to affect this large country as a man absolutely of the first class.

The Republican party on the other hand in Ohio is loaded with barnacles. Keifer is the most extraordinary bacnacle I have ever heard of. He became speaker of congress by the nomination of a set of boss senators, and I sometimes fear he is to be the last Republican speaker we shall ever see. The offense of making him speaker was certainly great enough not to be condoned. With a sort of dogged perseverance, however, he continues to go up and down the country representing Ohio as her favorite son, and plays it on Arthur. I do not see any hope for a political party in a big state which has come down to Keifer for hero. They say he was a good soldier and a brave man, but so was Private Dalzell. That is the fatal point about the Republican party now; it is crowded with past heroes who will not step down and out, and who can see no combination they would accept in which they are not advanced even beyond the positions they have been such injury in. Besides, the Puritan element in the Republican party is bound to run it. Here we are importing a million of people a year from Europe, and three-fourths of our population is of other than Puritan origin, and yet it is considered time for great national parties, which are only organized for the largest purposes, to be dipping into the next neighbor's tankard to see whether he is drinking milk or ginger-pop.

The Sunday question and the beer question will never return to the standard of John Calvin.

THE ODD FELLOWS.

Annual Conclave of the Supreme Patriarchal Circle in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 12.—The preliminary exercises of the three days' annual session of the Supreme Temple of the Patriarchal Circle, held under the auspices of Occidental temple No. 1, of this city, has begun. The entire morning was consumed in the reception of visiting temples, and the streets were alive with lines of uniformed bodies, headed by brass bands, marching to the different hotels.

The representatives arriving were the Ohio battalion, consisting of Miami temple No. 2, Sidney temple No. 14, and Golden temple No. 13; Orion temple No. 22, Lima, O.; Earl temple No. 15, Dayton, O.; Hebron temple No. 1, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Gould temple No. 4, Cincinnati, O.

Later arrivals were: Adams temple, Bay City, Mich; Ridgeley temple, East Saginaw; battalion from Minnesota organizations; Anderson, temple No. 9, Anderson, Ind.; Eddy temple, Rochester, N. Y.; Warsaw temple, Warsaw, Ind.; La Crossee temple, Wisconsin; South Bend and Elkhart, Ind., temples, besides many small battalions.

The officers of the Supreme temple, who are guests of the Grand Pacific, are: Supreme Counsel B. F. Foster, Chicago; supreme venerable oracle, F. M. Kollock, Fort Wayne, Ind.; supreme oracle, Peter Van Vechten, Jr., Milwaukee; supreme vice oracle, H. N. Innis, Columbus, O.; supreme marshal, Martin T. Krueger, Michigan City, Ind.; supreme commander, Col. S. S. Eddy, Rochester, N. Y.; supreme secretary, Newell Daniels, Milwaukee; supreme treasurer, C. W. Smith, Minneapolis; supreme chaplain, Robert Stratton, Fort Wayne, Ind.; supreme standard-bearer, R. W. McMahon, Bowling Green, O.; supreme first aid, A. J. Thompson, Sycamore, Ill.; supreme second aid, F. A. Brown, Grand Rapids; supreme guard, Franklin Ellis, Troy, O.; supreme sentinel, A. H. Salisbury, Milwaukee.

The officers of the supreme temple met in the methodist church building, on Clark street, at 9 o'clock, and immediately commenced an examination of the credentials of the representatives to the supreme body. At 11 o'clock the right eminent representatives were escorted from the Grand Pacific to the headquarters of the supreme temple, where the labors of the session were begun. The work of the forenoon consisted of the reading of the reports of the supreme oracle, secretary, and treasurer, after which the meeting adjourned until 2 o'clock.

It is estimated that 2,000 members of the patriarchal circle are in the city, and that as many more visitors are here. It is thought the number will be greatly increased, and that at least 2,500 men will join in the parade.

The programme comprises a procession and review of the temples. Occidental Temple No. 1 will hold a grand reception and promenade concert, in honor of the Supreme temple, at battery D armory.

A prize drill of visiting temples will take place at the base ball grounds, and an instrumental concert and competition of bands will take place at battery D armory.

Milwaukee temple No. 1, and Belle City temple No. 2, of Michigan, will arrive on a special excursion train over the Northwestern road with 1,000 excursionists.

Mississippi River Improvement.

ST. LOUIS, July 12.—The conference called together through the efforts of the merchant's exchange, of St. Louis, to consider the most practicable course to pursue in advocating the improvement of the Mississippi river, met in the Southern hotel. The conference is composed of one delegate appointed by the representatives of the commercial leaders of every important city in the Mississippi valley. Twenty cities were represented, some of them, especially New Orleans, sending a strong delegation. Besides the delegates, there were present Charles Foster, governor of Ohio; United States Senator Miller, of New York, and Speaker Keifer and ex-Congressman Townsend, of Ohio, who are here, however, on another mission.

The conference was called to order by J. C. Ewald, president of the merchants exchange, of St. Louis, who made a brief address of welcome.

The convention then effected a permanent organization by electing B. D. Wood, of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange, permanent chairman; G. L. Wright, permanent secretary.

Committees on resolutions and order of business were appointed.

MY DEAR PUPILS:—During the past seven months we have sought knowledge together, and the friendships grown in that period are among the happiest of my life. I feel that the most of our work is well done, and am happy that no vandal spirit can undo it. You are soon to go forth into the broad, rushing stream of life. A few of you have reached the margin of the current, and with hopeful, eager hearts are about to make the plunge; others, after a few terms of preparation will follow; but all shall at last go forth to buffet its waves, and ride to honor and success, or sink beneath the tide and disappear forever. Hence, pupils, make not your life a leap in the dark; but prepare to meet mountains of trouble, and I hope you will then be able to solve the mighty problem of life justly, skilfully and well.

Thanking the patrons for their hospitality during my short stay with them, I have the pleasure to subscribe myself

Resolutions.

At a regular communication of Milton lodge No. 161 F. and A. M. July 7th, 1883, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted.

WHEREAS it has pleased the Great Archtect of the universe to remove from our midst our late worthy brother, John Mc Rae, and whereas it is but just that a fitting recognition of his many virtues should be had. Therefore be it

Resolved, That while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High, we do not the less mourn for our brother who has been taken from us.

Resolved, That in the death of brother McRae this lodge laments the loss of a brother who was ever ready to profer the hand of aid and voice of sympathy to the needy and distressed of the fraternity, an active member of this society whose utmost endeavors were exerted for its wellfare and prosperity, a friend and brother who was dear to us all, a citizen whose upright and noble life was a standard of emulation to his fellows.

Resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of this lodge be extended to his family in their hour of affliction.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the lodge, and a copy thereof be transmitted to the family of our deceased brother, and to the Janesville Gazette and Milton Telephone for publication.

How About the Doses.

Many people before purchasing a medecine naturally inquire the size of the dose and the strength of it. In using Burdock Blood Bitters a teaspoonful for the little ones and two teaspoonfuls for grown folks are all that is necessary at one time. This magnificent medicine is not only economical but very pleasant to taste.

Clinton.

—A. B. Rogers has just returned from a somewhat protracted stay in Dakota where he has been to build a house on the land there owned by him.

—H. A. Morgan and wife, of Milwaukee, are taking a short vacation in Clinton.

—Fred Park, our cheese maker, has been confined to the house for a few days with a quinsy sore throat. Mr. Phillips takes his place at the factory.

—Miss Mary Armstrong spent a few days in town last week.

—The father and brother of Mr. Geo. Wilcox have just arrived from Oregon; they expect to remain until the North Pacific road is completed and then return over that.

—Many of our citizens went to Delevan, Beloit, Janesville, and elsewhere, to get their fourth of July inspiration; those who stayed at home spent a portion of the day in discussing the question whether there is any patriotism in ringing church bells and firing guns all night keeping people from getting rest in sleep, or in other words is noise patriotism.

—Dr. Covert is home from Kansas and the Indian territory. The eclectic medical convention and other interesting events and views in that western region, called him west.

—George H. La Mont, of Nebraska, is now visiting Clinton relations and friends, after an absence of several years. He reports the growing crops of that region as looking very promising and business as being prosperous.

—On the 5th inst., O. C. Gates of our village, received a dispatch from La Crosse saying that his father, Cyrus Gates, died at 2 o'clock and forty minutes that morning and that the remains would be taken to Clinton for interment. The funeral services will be held at the Congregational church at 2 p. m. on the sixth, Rev. S. D. Peet officiating. Brother Gates was buried with Masonic honors by the lodge in this place, assisted by a large delegation from Sharon and Darien, his wife died a few years ago since which he has lived with his daughter Mrs. Case, at LaCrosse. He was nearly 85 years old at the time of his death, leaves three sons and a daughter. For many years he was a much esteemed citizen of our village.

—Mrs. L. Reynolds, of Manchester, Ill., is the guest of Clinton friends.

—One of the hardest and most protracted thunder showers of the season passed over Clinton on the evening of the Fourth. Much damage was done to hay that was out.

—Mr. Isaac Covert, son of J. A. Covert, is visiting relatives here.

—Our worthy fellow citizen M. G. Weaver, was born and reared in this town, grew to man's estate, married him a wife, raised a family of children and pursued the even tenor of his ways like an exemplary American citizen. In an evil hour some envious person or persons, as I am led to imagine, jealous of the quiet and peace of his surroundings, took it upon themselves to break the monotony of his every day life and concocted a scheme to shock the domestic and matrimonial bliss of his otherwise happy family. That veteran disturber of domestic peace, Hon. C. M. Treat, went about town enlisting recruits and succeeded in raising an army of about 150 men, women and youth, persons, I must confess, who heretofore have sustained an enviable reputation for respectability and worth, there led by the aforesaid captain of hosts marched with stealthy tread in the dusk of the evening to said Weaver's residence, filed into the sitting room, over-flowed into the parlor, the bed rooms, up stairs, and into the kitchen. In the latter place they deposited pails, baskets, bundles and loaded plates. This done they brought in a large armed chair, a nice cane rocker and compelled Mr. and Mrs. Weaver to be seated in them while they, the crowd, took possession of the entire premises chattered like a flock of birds, shook hands like a society of Quakers, built a fire in the cook stove, made tea and coffee, soda biscuit, cold meat, cake, and lemonade. To make the confusion all the more marked the Clinton brass band with torches in their caps marched into the front yard and blowed their horns and beat their chimes for a good half hour. About ten o'clock Elder Peet pointed his finger at Mr. and Mrs. Weaver and said that Weaver had been born in Clinton; had always lived here; had not done anything very mean; had never got in jail, or something to that effect; that they had been married twenty years; that this was their china wedding—and if they did not believe it they could lift the cloth off the table in the other room, and see the goods for themselves: Tea set, china plates, chamber sets, fruit dishes and all. Mr. Weaver, not wishing to hurt their feelings, we suppose, said he was glad to see them; that he felt more than he could express, and hoped they would have a safe journey home and through life. We don't think they would have taken the hint about the journey home had it not been for the thunder shower that came up about that time, that started them just before eleven o'clock, but the most of them got some wet before they got home. Served them right

A Woman's Experience.

MRS. WILLIAM DOWNES, of Uxbridge, Mass., writes on March 15, 1883, as follows:

"During the past three years I have been a great sufferer from a complication of diseases which baffled the skill of the most experienced doctors, as I could not obtain permanent relief by their treatment and prescriptions; and I have also tried many so-called cures in the medicine line, but could get no relief. The pains, aches, and weakness increased so rapidly and constantly that I was so reduced in strength as to be unable to leave the bed, and the doctors informed me that there was no hope of a recovery. In this exhausted and discouraged condition a dear friend persuaded me to use Hunt's Remedy, and after taking it only three days I commenced to get better, and to my great joy and delight I have continued to improve constantly by its use, until now, after having taken the remedy only a few weeks, I am able to be about my house again, and am now doing my house work. My lame back is cured, the severe pains have disappeared, and I am now in better health than for many years, and beg this privilege of gladly recommending Hunt's Remedy to all who are afflicted with any disease of the kidneys or liver; and I also highly recommend it for the attacks of sick headache. My husband also has experienced a very great benefit to his health by the use of this most valuable medicine, Hunt's Remedy."

"Our Flag is Still There."

MR. S. B. LONGFELLOW, Augusta, Me., east side river, writes us under date of April 15, 1883:

"To whom it may concern: This may certify that two years ago I was very badly afflicted with kidney and urinary difficulties, which extended through the system and laid me up for weeks, so that I could do no work. I had the most skilful physician in town, who gave me no assistance. Hearing of Hunt's Remedy, I got a bottle, and half of it cured me entirely, so that I have been well ever since. The other half I gave to a neighbor who was afflicted much as I was, and it restored him to health. I can truly say Hunt's Remedy has been of great and inexpressive worth to me."

Medical and Surgical

INSTITUTE

Late Lecturer and Professor in one of the leading medical colleges in the United States, editor of the New York Medical and Surgical Journal, consulting physician and operative surgeon in the New York Hospital for Chronic Diseases. Physician in Chief of the Medical and Surgical Institute of Cedar Rapids.

ON ACCOUNT OF HIS

Immense Practice

IN

Janesville, Wis.,

WILL MAKE HIS NEXT VISIT AT THE

MYERS HOUSE,

Wednesday, August 29th.

And Remain Two Days

When he can be consulted on

Deformities, Spinal and Chronic Diseases.

Dr. Fishblatt

Has discovered the greatest cure in the world for weakness of the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, languor, confusion of ideas, paleness of sight or giddiness, diseases of the throat, nose or skin, affections of the liver, lungs stomach, or bowels,—those terrible disorders arising from solitary practice more fatal to their victims than the songs of the sircus to the Mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible.

YOUNG MEN.

Who have become victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, who might, if otherwise, entrance listening senates with the thunder of their eloquence, or wake to ecstacy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

Marriage.

Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness (loss of procreation power, impotency,) nervous debility or any other disqualifications speedily relieved. He who places himself under the care of Dr. Fishblatt may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.

Organic WEAKNESS.

Immediately cured and full vigor restored. This affliction—which renders life a burden and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victim of improper indulgence. Young persons are apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands this subject will deny that procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasures of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both mind and body arise. The system becomes deranged, the physical and mental functions weakened, loss of procreative power, nervous irritability, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, indigestion, constitutional debility, wasting of the frame, cough, consumption and death.

A Cure Warranted.

Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders who keep them trifling month after month, taking poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately.

Dr. Fishblatt

Graduated at one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at certain sounds, with frequent blushing attended somewhat with derangement of the mind, were cured immediately.

Particular Notice.

Dr. F. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruins both mind and body, unfitting them for business, study, society, marriage. These are some of the sad, melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth, namely: Weakness in the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of sight, loss of musical power, palpitation of the heart, dyspepsia, nervous irritability, derangement of the digestive functions, debility consumption, etc.

Chronic Diseases.

A Special Study for Years.

—:o:—

Dr. F. B. BREWER,

Has made Chronic Diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Nerves and Blood.

A special treatment for years. He is not a boastful, ignorant pretender, but an educated physician, seeking to do good, by devoting his talent and energies to the treatment of a class of maladies that have been with him a long and patient study. To be able to treat successfully chronic diseases it requires that a physician should be a sound, thorough scholar in the art of science and medicine generally. He should give his entire time to their study, be thorough in his investigations and have a long and varied experience. Dr. Brewer claims to work no wonders or to do any more than any well educated physician can do, who devotes his whole time to the study and treatment of chronic diseases exclusively, and has had his many years' of experience. For years Dr. Brewer has visited the the places he now visits, and has obtained his reputation by being honest in his dealings, candid in opinions and reasonable in his charges. Those who are afflicted are invited to call, investigate and decide for themselves. It will cost nothing to do so. Address all letters to F. B. BREWER, M. D., Lock Box 350, Chicago, Ill

Dr. F. B. Brewer will be at Janesville, Myers house, Saturday the 14th of July.

Brieflets.

—No tidings of the stolen horses.

—Either muzzle or shoot the dogs.

—The season for picnics has arrived.

—The cotton bat factory at the head of the mill race is being enlarged by a couple of additions.

—The Bower City band will give an open air concert on the corn exchange square to-morrow evening.

—Mr. H. W. Hathorn and family have gone to Clear Lake, Iowa, where Mr. Hathorn has engaged in business.

—Items were scarce in the county court house to-day, the officers all seemed to be exerting themselves to keep cool.

—A new sidewalk has been placed in front of Mr. Gookins' jewelry store and Mr. Wilson's musical establishment.

—The Appleton Post notices the arrival of Messrs. John H. Dyer and H. Crane, of Janesville, in that city, yesterday.

—Ald. Potter will postpone his excursion to the Yellowstone country until after the common council elects a city treasurer.

—Rock county farmers have commenced cutting rye, and by next week the harvesting machines will be busy all along the line.

—Robert Rossiter, of Spring Valley, was given twenty days in the county jail, —penalty for taking three pigs from another man's pasture.

—Miss Katie Christie, of Johnstown New York, is in the city, the guest of her cousin, Mrs. S. S. Judd, North Second street, second ward.

—Mr. Phillip Rhodes, who recently sold his farm on Milton avenue, left yesterday with his family for Viroqua, which place he will make his future home.

—A runaway horse, attached to a light buggy, stirred up the dust on Wall street at one o'clock this afternoon. The only damage was a partially wrecked buggy.

—Congressman John Winans, Mr. G. M. McKey, and Mr. Wm. Smith, of this city, left their autographs on the Park hotel register in Madison on Wednesday.

—Mr. N. C. Baker, of the Wisconsin shoe company, yesterday received a dispatch, announcing the dangerous illness of his parents in Canada, and started on the afternoon train for his old home.

—Mrs. C. O. Barnes, and sister, left the city on the 4:20 train this afternoon for a visit in Iowa. They will remain in Iowa during the summer. Mrs. Barnes' dress-making establishment will be closed until her return home, of which due notice will be given.

—The east side sprinkling wagon met with an accident this forenoon by breaking the "reach" of the wagon while wetting down North Main street. The break was soon repaired and the sprinkling continued.

—Dr. J. B. Whiting has a head of lettuce in his garden which measures five feet in circumference. This is the largest, by several inches, of any yet reported, and if no other returns are to come in, the doctor will be awarded the prize.

—Mr. L. Jerome, of the Dr. Bosanko medicine company, made us a pleasant call to-day. He is on his way to the Pacific coast and will be absent until the holidays. We find him a pleasant and genial gentleman and well calculated to make friends.

—The masons have completed their work on Mr. C. W. Jackman's new building on Main street, and the carpenters have completed putting on the roofing boards. The building will now be completed in short order, as most of the work will be on the inside.

—Quite a large party is being organized in this city for the purpose of establishing a camp at Delavan lake. We understand the party will pitch their tents at the lake next Monday, and judging from those who are now registered as of the party, it will be a merry one.

—Hanchet & Sheldon, the Main street hardware merchants, have the contract for putting on the tin roof of Jackman's Main street building, and workmen are now busy laying on the tin, which at the rate it has been going on to-day, will be completed this week.

—W. H. Sargent Post No. 20., G. A. R. of this city have received an invitation from Rev. Father McGinity, of St. Patrick's church, to attend divine service in that church next Sunday morning. The post will hold a meeting to-morrow evening, and the invitation will undoubtedly be accepted.

—The social of the young people's society of the First M. E. church, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Arnold last evening, was a grand success. The attendance was large, and a choice musical and literary programme, and an abundance of cake and ice cream, made the social one of the most pleasant of the season.

—Mr. Ogden H. Fethers returned from New York last night in excellent health, and looking much better than for some time. Mrs. Fethers is now at Sharon Springs, a popular resort in Central New York. Her health is very much improved, and in the course of four or five weeks she expects to return home.

—Owing to the illness of Mr. John Thoroughgood, the leader of the Catholic cornet band, and the absence from the city of two or three other members, the band did not give the open air concert on the corn exchange square last evening as announced. These facts were not ascertained in time to be published in last evening's Gazette.

—The home of Rev. W. F. Brown, of the Presbyterian church, was the scene of a large gathering of the members and friends of that society last evening, the occasion being the society social. The evening was spent in social conversation and innocent games. A bountiful supply of refreshments were served, and the evening was pleasantly and profitably spent.

—Beloit Free Press:—"Mr. Sylvester Bush was to-day taken to the Oshkosh hospital for the insane. It is thought and hoped that his difficulty will be but temporary. Business troubles seem to have been the cause of his mental debility.—A Beloit young man, or rather big boy, was full of whisky, parading the street last night in company with a soiled dove from Janesville, and the city marshal sent the bird home on the cars, and the fool to his pa."

The Absence of the City Marshal.

There is just now considerable "kicking" indulged in by some of our citizens, on account of the occasional absence of Marshal Hogan from the city, which we think is uncalled for. True the marshal is hired by the city, for the purpose of attending to the police affairs of the city alone, and seldom does he absent himself on other business, and then not until he puts a good man in his place to remain until he returns. Frequently the marshal is obliged to leave the city for a short time, a few hours or a day and night, for the purpose of capturing a "crook" who has committed some crime in the city. Last Sunday morning he left in pursuit of the horse thieves, thinking he would be back in the evening, but before he left he secured the service of Officer John Brown to look after his duties, and Mr. Brown remained on duty until the return of the marshal. Marshal Hogan went in pursuit of the thieves, believing that they would succeed in capturing them in a few hours; but in this he was mistaken, and all the officers were loth to give up the chase and return home without first satisfying themselves that the ground had been thoroughly gone over. We are of the opinion that Marshal Hogan performs his duty to the city, and performs it well. He is out many times all night; is at the depots on the arrival of all trains, especially those from Chicago and Milwaukee; is on the tramp all the time; and the extraordinary good order which prevails in our city, is sufficient proof that his duty is all performed, and that he is in as many places in a given time as any other man in the city. The officers, county and city, in cases of emergency, are quick to help one another, and this was the case on Sunday and Monday last; and we see no good reason, under the circumstances, why anyone should be disposed to find fault with Marshal Hogan for doing what he could in the way of pursuing the horse thieves.

Prof. Horsford's Baking Powder.

PURE AND EXCELLENT.

BARON LIEBIG, the leading chemist of the world, says: "I have, through a great series of experiments, satisfied myself of the purity and excellence of Prof. Horsford's Baking Powder."

Postmaster Richardson.

This afternoon Mr. Hamilton Richardson received his commission as postmaster at this city. He will take possession of the office some time during the week. As already stated in the Gazette, Mr. Richardson will make no material change in the clerical force of the postoffice at present.

The commission which Mr. Richardson has received, is signed by President Arthur and Postmaster General Gresham, and has all the red tape about it that one document is entitled to.

The True Test.

If a man is hungry within an hour more or less after a meal he is a dyspeptic, it shows his stomach is not able to dispose of what he has eaten, but to eat again, and thus impose more work, is absurdity. Take Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic which cures dyspepsia, and all stomach, liver, kindey and bladder troubles. It is a perfect tonic, appetizer blood purifier, a sure cure for ague and malaria diseases. Price 50 cents, of Stearns & Baker.

$100 Reward.

Sheriff Harper has offered the above reward for the recovery of Mr. Parker's stolen horses, and has had postal cards printed which he has mailed to all parts of the country. The postal reads as follows: $100 reward! Stolen from the premises of Sumner Parker, Sunday morning, July 8th, two miles east of Janesville. Wis., a large span Norman iron grays. One a mare six years old, weighs about 1,500 pounds, with white strip the length of face, a watch-eye, and was newly shod. The other was a four year old colt, very dark gray, a sore on top of neck, weighs about 1,350 pounds. Said team was hitched to a two-seated open buggy, one seat taken out—was painted black. A nice spring seat cushion was also taken. A common farm harness was on horses. The above reward will be paid for the return of the horses or for any information leading to their return and arrest of thieves.

THE CAMP FIRE

The boys sit 'round the camp fire—
A few of the boys of yore,
And sing their songs and tell their tales
Of the boys who are no more.

They speak of the march of the bivouac—
Of the skirmish line—of the grand attack!
They speak of the fight—of the charge they made—
Of the wild hurrah, and the cannonade!

They tell of how they fought and fell
'Mid showers of shot and shrieking shell;
They tell of valorous action done—
Of battles lost, and battles won.

With hushed voices they speak of the prison pen
Where buoyant youth and bearded men
Were huddled together, were starved to death,
Under the eyes of the arch-traitor Jeff.

In a few short years the boys will stand
In one army corps—in one command;
As they pass in review the commander will say,
"Each man's done his duty. we'll camp here to-day."

J. McC.

Janesville, Wis., June 13, 1883.

The Late Thomas Capelle.

The Oshkosh Northwestern, speaking of the death of Conductor Thomas Capelle, says: "Deceased was a native of New York, and was in the railroad employment there for ten years before coming to Wisconsin. During these twenty-one years he had been a conductor on the Northwestern road, and until about two years ago resided for many years in this city. About three years ago he had a paralytic stroke and came near dying. Upon his partial recovery his run was changed to an easier one south of Janesville, and he removed with his family to that city. He ran his train up to four days before he died. He was 56 years of age. The funeral took place at Janesville on Tuesday afternoon. He leaves a wife and six children. A daughter is Mrs. Mont. Rich, of this city."

The Oshkosh Times publishes the following obituary: "On Sunday when the death of Thomas Capello was made known, everybody who heard it was greatly surprised, although it was known that he had been in feeble health for some time back. He died at his home in Janesville on Saturday evening. A few weeks ago he was in this city receiving the congratulations of his many friends and acquaintances. He knew everybody, and everybody knew him favorably. He was better acquainted in railroad circles in this state than probably any other man in it. He was the oldest conductor on the road, and yet he was far from being an old man. He settled at Racine on first coming to this state, and ran on the first railroad built there. Over twenty years ago he ran a train out of this city. Some eighteen years he lived here, and then removed with his family to the city in which he died. His health was completely broken down."

Nearer to Nature.

Nature has made her laws with us, which we must obey or suffer the penalty. This penalty is often lung or throat trouble, which leads on to consumption. Every man believes consumption incurable. People have been educated to this belief, which is proven incorrect by Dr. Bigelow's Positive Cure which is nature's great helpmate, and it cures consumption and all throat and lung diseases speedily and permanently. Trial bottles free, of Stearns & Baker.

A New Boiler House.

The state board of charities having notified our county authorities that unless the boilers were removed from underneath the insane asylum at Johnstown, that board would cease to recognize that institution as an insane asylum, the building committee of the county board consisting of Supervisors Burdge, of Beloit; Ward, of the town of Janesville, and Ratheram, of the fifth ward of this city, and the committee on charitable and penal institutions, consisting of Supervisor Kimball, third ward of Janesville; Eager, of Evansville, and Hanthorn, of Johnstown, visited the insane asylum yesterday for the purpose of adopting some plan by which the unsafe condition of the heating apparatus could be remedied.

At the meeting of the board of supervisors held last month, that body visited the asylum for the purpose of inspecting the boilers, and to better determine what should be done regarding their safety. They finally passed a resolution, instructing the building committee to use their best judgment in repairing the defects and appropriated the sum of one thousand dollars to defray the expense of remodeling the old building, or constructing a new boiler house, as the committee might elect.

The committee, after considering the objections raised by the state board, and fearing that the county would have an insane asylum without patients unless the boilers were removed, yesterday determined to build a new stone and brick boiler house, which can be done with a trifle more expense than was appropriated for the repairing and remodeling of the present building. By removing the boilers, the building can be made to accommodate several more patients, which the state board signify their willingness to send here as soon as accommodations are provided.

The new boiler house will be located south of and across the road from the other buildings, where the ground is considerably lower, which will allow the water in the heating pipes to freely flow back to the boilers.

The building committee, after taking everything into consideration, deem this the best course to pursue, and the new boiler house will be at once erected, and the danger of firing the asylum by any defect in the heating apparatus thus avoided.

Correction.

On Monday we published an item stating—"There is a report in the city to-day that Mr. George Sherman, of La Prairie, is dangerously sick—suffering with a cancer in the stomach—one report states that last evening he was dying." To-day we were shown a letter from Mr. Sherman, denying the report, and giving a true statement of his condition, which the Gazette is glad to publish. Mr. Sherman, after alluding to the above report, says: "I am suffering from some stomach trouble; but of all the physicians I have consulted (and I have consulted several in Chicago and Janesville) not one of them have pronounced it cancer. Last Sunday I was as well as I have been for a long time. Such an article would be likely to cause alarm among my friends and relatives outside Janesville and vicinity, who read the Janesville papers. I think it should be corrected."

Our readers will find all the medicines advertised in this paper at Prentice & Evenson's drug store, opposite the postoffice. They keep all the principal patent medicines in the market, and undoubtedly have the largest stock in the city.

Fulton.

—Macy and Lee Smith, of Chicago, are stopping with Frank Pyre, for a few days.

—Mrs. F. E. Sayre had a narrow escape to-day while driving across the dam. When she got onto the bridge her horse became unmanageable, and turned around, breaking the whiffletree and getting away. There is a great deal of dissatisfaction about the state of the road leading from the factory to the dam, and if not fixed soon, there will be someone hurt seriously.

—F. H. Pease has gone to Boscobel and Woodman, fishing, and yesterday sent home a live catfish that tipped the beam at forty-seven and a half (47½) pounds.

—Mrs. F. G. Green remains about the same.

—Miss Sybil Nash, of Janesville, is visiting with her sister, Mrs. H. W. Lee, for a few days.

—Rev. A. S. Reid's son is home on a visit and to take a rest from his studies.

—Frank Hollister, of Oshkosh, is making a short visit among friends here. He expects to make Chicago his future home.

—Miss Rose Drown entertained a few of her young friends last evening and a good time is reported. Frank Pyre enlivened the occasion with his violin.

—Mrs. Earl Shaw is to have a lawn party at her beautiful home this afternoon.
